ANNUAL BANQUET GRAND SUCCESS.

Hawesville Men of Letters Prominent On Program--Speeches And Hospitality Make The Feast Merry.

LARGEST ATTENDANCE EVER.

Only comes once a year does the banquet of the Knights of Pythias lodge of this city, and the one given in Oelze's hall last Tuesday evening was certainly a most enjoyable affair.

Quite a number of visiting Knights and their young lady friends were met at the train by the reception committee: Messrs. Wave Roff, Tony Nicholas, Will Pate and James Bishop.

The speeches and short talks made were brief, spiced with fun and filled with good fellowship. Marion Weatherholt was master of ceremonies, and those who spoke were: Prof. Tanaer and Rev. Mr. Dillon, of this city; Attorney Vance, Rev. Mr. Boyd and Prof. Olson, of Hawesville.

The banquet feast was made up of a soup and meat course, followed by ices.

The attendance was very large, so many women and children were present enjoying the hospitality of their husbands and fathers. Mr. Chas. May and family were not present on account of illness. He is one of the oldest and hardest workers of the lodge and his absence was greatly felt by many present.

Youngest Newspaper Girl.

"Short Stories About Kentucky women in Newspaper Work" is the title of an unusually interesting article printed in the Louisville Times of Saturday evening, February 19. The article is "illustrated" with eight delightfully pretty pictures--women journalists of Kentucky. "The likeness of Miss Betty L. Hubbard, of The Herald, appears in the group. It is only necessary to say that the "loveliness" of the front page of this particular issue of The Times, was made lovelier by the reproduction of Miss Hubbard's photograph. We could say more, but the picture itself is entirely too much food for vanity; therefore, we shall attach what Miss Louise Babbage, the writer of the article, says about Miss Hubbard and let it go at that.--La Rue County Herald.

On "The Pension List."

Sam Conrad came in the News office and renewed his subscription last Wednesday for twenty-ninth year. Mr. Conrad has been paying in advance for the News every year since 1881. To say that The Breckenridge News appreciates such support is putting gratitude in a mild way. Mr. Conrad's promptness for paying bills, in all probability, due to his success in his poultry business which he engaged in just for past-time from his store. Tuesday of last week Mr. Conrad found twelve little chickens under a fine Rhode Island hen which he had set on thirteen eggs just three weeks ago from that date.

Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. McGlothlin were host and hostess to a dinner Sunday given in honor of their son, Mr. Clarence McGlothlin, who will return soon to Los Angeles, Cal. Among the out-of-town guests present were: Mr. John Waller, of Hopkinsville, and Jas. Park, Knoxville, Tenn.

EMMETT CHAPIN KILLED IN WRECK.

Remains Brought To His Old Home Near Cloverport For Interment--Was A Successful Young Man.

FAMILY SHOCKED AT DEATH.

The body of Emmett Chapin, who died of injuries received in a wreck in the Big Four yards in Louisville last week, was brought here Thursday evening for burial. The funeral was held by Rev. J. F. Winchell Friday afternoon and the interment took place in the Hawkins cemetery. The flowers sent by friends and relatives from Louisville were many and beautiful.

Mr. Chapin was the son of the late Mrs. Charles Jennings and was thirty years of age. He was an excellent young man and was making money and just getting ready to live happily.

His relatives here are sorely grieved over his death and The News extends much sympathy to them.

VENERABLE MOTHER

Of Robert W. Brown Is Summoned-- Was a Member of the Old Lewis Family of Breckenridge.

Mrs. Mary E. A. Brown, the mother of R. W. Brown, managing editor of The Louisville Times, and of Joseph A. Brown, of Nashville, Tenn., died at the home of the latter Thursday evening February the twenty-fourth. Her final illness started from the pricking of her thumb with a needle last Friday. Erysipelas developed and caused her death. Mrs. Brown was nearly eighty-three years of age and her life was beautiful and interesting. In her early womanhood days she lived in Breckenridge county with Dr. Thomas J. Lewis, the father of the Rev. James T. Lewis, of Fordsville, and Mrs. Edgar Bennett, of Basin Springs. In 1864 she married Robert R. Brown, of Hardin county.

Mrs. Brown was a woman remarkable in many ways and was greatly talented in music and literature. She was a member of the Broadway Methodist Temple Church of Louisville.

It is said, during the last twenty-five years her older son, Robert, never failed to spend Christmas with her.

Chicken Sandwich Up!

Chicken sandwich sells at 20 cents per now at the famous restaurant of Jonas Lyons at Irvington, but hard boiled eggs always stay the same old price. "Doesn't matter how scarce eggs are and how high, they are always 5 cents per here", said Robert Lyons, a younger member of the firm, last Sunday evening. He is a fine, energetic fellow and knows how to please the hungry tourists at Irvington Junction.

EMINENT LAWYER GOES TO FINAL COURT

Morris Eskridge Dies at His Home In Hardinsburg--Prominent and Respected Member of The Breckenridge Bar.

FUNERAL HELD SATURDAY.

Hardinsburg, Feb. 28. (Special).--Morris Eskridge, one of the oldest members of the Breckenridge bar and for many years one of its leading members, died suddenly at his home on Thursday night, at 10:15 o'clock. For two years he had been in failing health, but no unusual indications foretold his early death. On Thursday he had been in attendance at court and at night contemplated going to prayer meeting as was his custom. Feeling somewhat fatigued he decided not to go and slept while the family attended. Soon after their return a pain in his chest was of unusual severity. Its second attack caused him to let the physician be called. In a few minutes life was gone, the passing being so quiet that death had taken him before his nearest neighbors knew of his illness.

He was the son of Judge Elijah Eskridge and was born in Hardinsburg, Sept. 1st 1843 and spent his entire life here. At the age of fourteen he was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, remaining a faithful member of the same to the day of his death, more than half a century.

On January 1st, 1867, he was happily married to Miss Adeline Kincheloe, of his native town. To their union were born Jesse Eskridge County Attorney of Breckenridge county, Graham stenographer in the War Department of the government with headquarters at St. Paul, and the daughters, Katie, Lizzie, Clara, and Addie K.

The father is the first to die of the family, a family where kindly thought and affectionate regard marked the daily life of each member. Besides his family four brothers, Roscoe of Hardinsburg, Melville of Owensboro, James and Henry of Louisville, and two sisters, Mrs. John Haswell, of Hardinsburg, and Mrs. Allie Weatherford of Sunnydale survive his death.

The deceased was an honored citizen of the county, a high type of christian gentleman, a lawyer of ability, a faithful supporter of the church, for years the teacher of the Bible class in his Sunday School, honest in his dealings with all men, and a devoted husband and father. His day's work always ended in brightness, for it meant his return to his home where communion with his favorite books and conversation with his family gave him rest and perfect content. In politics he was a Republican always laboring for the success of his party because he believed it was right. He eschewed evil in politics as in other things, and preferred defeat to success, if success was to be won by corrupt methods. He was a bountiful provider for his family, and amassed a comfortable amount of possessions. His sound judgement in business affairs made him one of the valued directors of the Bank of Hardinsburg and Trust Company.

The funeral services were held in the Methodist Episcopal Church at two o'clock Saturday afternoon by Rev. Isaiah Cline.

A tribute was paid to his memory by Judge Weed S. Chelf who spoke in beautiful terms of the quiet, unassuming life just passed away. After which his body was laid to rest in the "Ivy Hill" cemetery. The honorary pallbearers were the members of the Breckenridge Bar. Judge N. M. Mercer, Gen. David R. Murray, John P. Haswell, Jr., Judge Henry DeHaven Moorman, Claude Mercer, and G. D. Shellman. The active pallbearers were Allen R. Kincheloe, Morris Buckner Kincheloe, Morris H. Beard, Homer Eskridge, John Kincheloe, and Coleman Haswell.

HOME ENDORSEMENT.

Hundreds of Cloverport Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Cloverport people, should be evident beyond dispute for every Cloverport reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

Price Graham, Railroad St., Cloverport, Ky., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a remedy that will live up to representations. For four years I suffered from disordered kidneys and the secretions were much too frequent in passage forcing me to rise several times during the night. Whenever I caught cold, it was sure to settle in my kidneys and greatly aggravate my trouble. My back ached severely and when I stooped, I was seized by sharp twinges through my loins. The ache in my back at night greatly disturbed my rest and in the morning I rose feeling lame and sore. I was very nervous, the slightest work tired me and I often felt dull and languid. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Fisher's drug store, relieved me in a short time and it required but the contents of four boxes to effect a complete cure. I can state that this cure has proven to be a permanent one and it gives me pleasure to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others afflicted in a similar manner."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name--Doan's--and take no other.

Thanks From Louise.

The very attractive illustrative article in last Saturday's Louisville Times of prominent and gifted women engaged in journalism was from the pen of Miss Louise Babbage, of the Breckenridge News. Miss Babbage has been called "The Sweetheart of the Kentucky Press."--Elizabethtown News.

Mrs. L. T. Reid gave a colonial tea at her home last Tuesday afternoon.

ONE BROTHER CLEARED OTHER CONVICTED

William McCracken Goes to Penitentiary Four Years Charged With the Murder of Jesse Keys.

SHELBY MCCrackEN ACQUITTED.

The case of greatest interest in the present term of Circuit Court was the trial of Shelby and William McCracken of Cloverport charged with the killing of Jesse Keys in a gasoline boat while on a pleasure trip on the Ohio River. The trial occupied nearly a week, a part of the period being spent in securing a jury. Selby was acquitted, but Wm. McCracken was given a sentence of four years in the penitentiary.

The family of Mr. William McCracken are sorely grief stricken over the sentence of their father to the pen, and it is said one of the children is almost prostrated with grief. Some of the school pupils have been very unkind to the McCracken children during their trouble by throwing sneers and making unkind remarks to them. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCracken have a family of four children.

The family of Selby McCracken was indeed made happy last Tuesday when the word came that their father had been cleared.

Former Cloverport People Popular In Church Work.

The News is in receipt of a church paper, The Messenger, from Louisville, in which we notice the prominence and good work of two of our former Cloverport people, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Randall.

The Temple Methodist church has one of the largest congregations in that city, and we see by the paper that Mr. Randall is one of the Board of Stewards. The church is at present undergoing extensive repairs. A new pipe organ and chimes will be installed, which when complete will be the finest organ south of the Ohio river. The steam heat and electric appliances will be of the most modern style and Mr. Randall is one of the committee for the purchase and installation of these modern devices.

Mrs. Randall is president of the entertainment committee and under her skillful instructions they have given two splendid entertainments this winter. One was a literary nature, the other was a Colonial affair, given on Washington's birthday. Lander Memorial church and Crescent Hill church united with the Temple and the affair was one of the pleasing events in the church society of Louisville.

Dinner For Mrs. Sterrett.
